

XXVIII Meeting of the Central Bank Researchers Network - 2023 CEMLA Conference

CALL FOR PAPERS

November 9 - 10, 2023 – Mexico City (hybrid)

The Center for Latin American Monetary Studies (CEMLA) is organizing its XXVIII Meeting of the Central Bank Researchers Network, to be held on November 9 - 10, 2023. CEMLA invites contributions from papers in which at least one co-author is affiliated to a CEMLA Member Institution (Associate or Collaborating). Notwithstanding the above, authors affiliated to other external institutions are also welcome to submit their papers, for whom a limited number of slots in the program will be considered.

Papers accepted for presentation will be discussed by another speaker within the same session. Accepted papers, as well as presentations and discussions, will be posted on the Conference website to facilitate the discussion among participants.

Keynote Speakers

Michele Boldrin, Washington University in St. Louis
Saki Bigio, University of California, Los Angeles

Venue

The conference will be held at CEMLA's facilities in Mexico City in a hybrid format (in-person and digital). There is no registration fee. However, participants are expected to pay their expenses for travel and accommodation.

Conference Special Issue

A special issue of the Latin American Journal of Central Banking (LAJCB) will include selected papers presented at the conference. Authors who wish their paper to be considered for the Special Issue, should clearly indicate this in their conference submission.

Special Issue Award

All accepted papers in the Special Issue will receive a compensation of 1,000 USD each, which CEMLA will fund. If the paper participates in any other CEMLA award, it will only be eligible for the monetary prize once.
